

Berto's fresh pasta is the sort of stuff that dreams are made of.

1 of 7

Haydon Perrior

Berto's fresh pasta is the sort of stuff that dreams are made of. If dreams were made of perfectly al dente strozzapreti coddled with sardines, datterini tomatoes and parsley, that is. Uncomplicated Italian flavours and fair old dose of old school neighbourhood charm are the primary draws at this North London restaurant. As is the hearty portion of gnocchi with nduja and melted stracciatella. Visit the joint on International Pasta Day for a carb-up of the highest order.

berto.uk

11. Raw & Natural cheese and wine event at Canopy Market

25-27 OCTOBER; WEST HANDYSIDE CANOPY, N1C 4BH